

THE MODERN RESIDENCE

Inspired Modern Homes Imagined and
Designed by the Nation's Leading Architects

BELOW AND FACING PAGE: This soft mountain contemporary-style home sits on a corner lot in Aspen's coveted West End, thus creating a visually dynamic exterior from all aspects. Capturing sunlight throughout the day, this home is enjoyable during every Colorado season. The use of approachable elements, such as stone, wood, and metal, celebrates the historic character of the neighborhood while expressing its own unique style.
 Photographs by Gibeon Photography

Brewster McLeod Architects

This award-winning boutique architecture firm, based in Aspen Colorado, specializes in luxury residential architecture from San Francisco to Washington DC, and internationally. Since the firm's inception, Jamie L Brewster McLeod, has strived to provide exceptional design that truly brings out a sense of place.

Jamie's focus is creating architecture as living art forms designed perfectly within their natural environments. The result is architecture set naturally within the landscape creating the setting for each custom creation.

The goal of each design is to ensure all elements of the homeowners' desires are expressed with stylistic insight and thoughtful design, thus creating a relationship with her clients that transforms their dreams into reality.

As an all-inclusive custom firm, Brewster McLeod Architects is there from the initial ideas throughout the construction and final finishing touches each home deserves.

BELOW TOP: Clean, artistic stairs help celebrate the circulation space in the center of the home, creating a central art piece viewed on all three levels.

BELOW BOTTOM LEFT: Since the homeowners are oenophiles as well as winemakers, we created a custom wine room as a focal point to the lower floor living area.

BELOW BOTTOM RIGHT: An open floor plan throughout the main floor creates the ideal entertaining space. The inlay-wood ceiling provides a rustic touch that balances the modern elements of the state-of-the-art kitchen, fit for a chef.

FACING PAGE: High ceilings in the living room help filter natural light into the open main floor living spaces while highlighting the modern stone fireplace feature.
Photographs by Gibbon Photography

Blue River Construction Management, LLC

162 Midland Avenue

Basalt, CO 81621

970-704-1963

Info@blueriverconstruction.net